Bala | TMP Announces Name Change

BOSTON, Massachusetts - January 23, 2017 - Boston based Bala | TMP Engineers announced the firm will be transitioning from Bala | TMP to Bala Consulting Engineers, effective January 24, 2017. The change is the final phase of a two-year process, when Bala Consulting Engineers, headquartered in Philadelphia, merged with TMP in 2015.

The Boston office will continue to be lead by Jim Magarian, Kevin Caddle, and Ed Dolan. Mike Spence, former TMP President, retired in 2016 but remains actively involved in the company as a consultant. Notable projects include: Billerica High School, multiple projects at Logan International Airport, 121 Seaport and Amgen.

With offices in Philadelphia, New York, and Boston, Bala has the expertise and resources in the corporate, education, data center, transportation, and developer markets.
